SINGLE WOMEN ACROSS THE GLOBE

THE JOURNEYS OF THEIR LIFE AND WORK

NOV 12-17, 2018 • JAIPUR, RAJASTHAN, INDIA.

YOU ARE INVITED

Join us in this space of sharing, reflecting, connecting and documenting the life journeys of single women from different parts of the world.

We welcome you to join us and other fellow single women. By “single” we mean women who see themselves as having been single (unmarried/divorced/separated/un-partnered) for a significant part of their adult lives, whether or not they are single at present.

Many of us may feel isolated from those in the world who live more traditional or so-called “normal” life stories. What can we learn from each other and what can the rest of the world learn from us? Through peer support and community, we can create our own stories and new paradigms.

OUR GOALS

Together, we will create a learning community designed to enable us to:

- Learn from and document our life journeys
- Connect and build a community of support across the world
- Heal, grow and empower ourselves and each other
- Generate new knowledge in the field about the lives of women in the world particularly about what it means to live beyond or outside of the dominant narrative.

Our goal is also to publish a book to document our journeys and learning. We shall encourage you during and after the workshop to write about your personal journey developed through this programme and to submit it as a chapter for this publication.

PARTICIPANTS

To keep the interactions deep, responsive and meaningful, we envisage having a limited number of women (15-20) from as many different parts of the world as possible.

We hope you'll join us in this fascinating, creative and pioneering venture.

Feel free to circulate this to other women in your network of friends and acquaintances who may be interested.

UMA JAIN

Convenor | Design and Facilitation Team Member

Uma Jain is the founder, CEO and Principal Consultant of Saharth, focusing on enhancing synergy, meaning and prosperity in people's lives. She has been an internal and external trainer & consultant in organizations for over three decades India and several other countries including the USA, Austria, Singapore, Dubai.

Uma has made significant contributions to the field in her various roles including President of the Indian Society for Applied Behavioral Science (ISABS), Vice Chair of the NTL Board of Directors and co-steward for the NTL Diversity, Inclusion and Social Justice Community of Practice. She has deep passion and commitment for the areas of personal development, values, culture building and diversity in which she has contributed in national and international forums and journals.

Based in Ahmedabad, India, Uma is a single woman (never married). She has been carving out a new path to live her passion and values that she stands for in various spaces in the social context. She seeks to learn more as well as contribute to the understanding of the lives of single women in the world.

HEATHER BERTHOUD

Design and Facilitation Team Member

Heather Berthoud, Lead Consultant at Berthoud Consulting, is a trusted partner to organizational and community leaders in organizational effectiveness & leadership development. She combines a passion for social justice with a focused practical results-orientation that improves leaders' and organizations' ability to accomplish their goals, learn, and enjoy.

She is faculty for the American University Masters in Organization Development. She is a member of the NTL Institute, Organization Development Network, and the Gestalt International Study Center. Her practice and teaching are informed by years of studying martial arts and yoga, as well as hiking.

Heather lives in the US, as a single (never married) woman, who regularly fields questions about her marital status and nonexistent children. She is curious about how a life lived outside the dominant narrative creates insight that is useful for the larger society.

DEBORAH HOWARD

Design and Facilitation Team Member

Deborah Howard, Esq., M.S.O.D., founder and President of Guiding Change Consulting, Inc. is a leading organizational consultant, professional certified coach, and author who previously worked as a public interest lawyer. She brings intercultural insight and a passion for social justice to her work as a change catalyst – helping leaders and their teams transform themselves and the world by tapping into their wisdom and creative potential. Deborah is a member and former board member of the NTL Institute for Applied Behavioral Science, author of Repairing the Quilt of Humanity: A Metaphor for Healing and Reparation, and Mystery of Memory: Telling My Truth, Standing My Ground, and serves on the Editorial Board of The Journal of Applied Behavioral Science (JABS).

Deborah was married for six years and then a single mother of two children thereafter. She created a non-traditional family by raising both her biological daughter from the marriage and her son (her ex-husband's biological son, not hers) after the divorce. She lives in the U.S. but has lived in Japan as well.
